What Makes Health Services Research Information Seeking Different?

- Different set of databases or sources for searching that creates a complex search.
- Data-focused question(s) or strong use of data.
- Primarily found in grey literature sources.
- No streamlined approach in search strategy.
- Important to have some base knowledge of U.S. Health System (See chart below).
- Broadly defined terms (e.g., cost)
- Continuing to keep information current (e.g., changes in policy)
